Company Name: Oshkosh Corporation

Company Sector: Automotive, Defense, Aerospace, Fire and Emergency

Operating Geography: United States, North America, Global

About the Company: Oshkosh Corporation, originally Oshkosh Truck, is a manufacturer of speciality trucks, military vehicles, truck bodies, airport fire apparatus, and access equipment with its headquarters in Oshkosh, Wisconsin, United States. The company was established in 1917 as the Wisconsin Duplex Auto Company to produce a heavy-duty four-wheel-drive truck. It operates in four different segments: Access Equipment, Defense, Fire & Emergency, and Commercial. The Access Equipment department includes aerial work platforms from JerrDan and JLG, as well as telehandlers for positioning personnel and objects at elevated heights in construction, industrial, institutional, and general maintenance applications. The Defense segment designs and manufactures tactical wheeled vehicles, as well as provides parts and services to the US military and other militaries across the world. Commercial and custom fire vehicles, simulators and emergency vehicles primarily for fire departments, airports, and other governmental entities, and broadcast trucks for broadcasters and television stations are all sold in the Fire and Emergency section. The Commercial segment consist of McNeilus, CON-E-CO, London, Iowa Mold Tooling Co., Inc (IMT), and Oshkosh Commercial. Oshkosh Corporation stated in September 2021 that it had invested in Carnegie Foundry to expand its Autonomy and Robotics capabilities.

Oshkosh Corporation's USP lies in its being the pioneer in the development of mission-critical vehicles and necessary equipment. The mission statement of Oshkosh Corporationreads, "Oshkosh Corporation partners with customers to deliver superior solutions that safely and efficiently move people and materials at work, around the globe and the clock".
