Company Name : Hecla Mining Company

Company Sector : Mining

Operating Geography : United States, North America, Global

About the Company :

Hecla Mining Company is a mining company based in the United States that specializes in the exploration, development, and production of precious and base metals. The company was founded in 1891 and has a long history in the mining industry. Hecla's primary focus is on silver and gold mining, although it also produces other metals such as lead and zinc. The company operates several mines in North America, including the Greens Creek mine in Alaska, the Lucky Friday mine in Idaho, and the Casa Berardi mine in Quebec, Canada. As the third-largest producer of lead and zinc in the U.S., Hecla fully owns and operates mines in Alaska (Greens Creek), Idaho (Lucky Friday), Quebec, Canada (Casa Berardi), and Yukon Territory, Canada (Keno Hill). Greens Creek ranks as the second largest and highest-grade primary silver mine worldwide based on silver equivalent ounces, while Lucky Friday secures the seventh largest position with the second highest grade. Anticipating around 17 million ounces of silver production in 2023, which could increase to 20 million ounces by 2025, Hecla is poised to become Canada's leading silver producer as well. Hecla's silver assets consistently deliver positive margins, even in low-price environments, covering all-in sustaining costs. In 2022, the company achieved its second highest silver production and recorded its highest ever lead and zinc production. Notably, Hecla acquired Alexco Resource Corp., resulting in a record silver reserve of 241 million ounces.

Hecla Mining Company distinguishes itself through its unique selling proposition as the largest primary silver producer in the United States and the third largest globally, with a specific emphasis on high-grade silver mines. Its mission is to generate long-term shareholder value by exploring, acquiring, developing, producing, and marketing precious metals such as silver, gold, and associated base metals. The company is committed to maintaining sustainable profitability while adhering to responsible mining practices and environmental stewardship. Hecla aims to become a leading and trusted provider of precious metals by leveraging its expertise, strategic acquisitions, and a strong focus on operational excellence, all with the ultimate goal of contributing to a sustainable and prosperous future.
